Confirmation of Resignation

Dear Kanav,

Further to your notice of resignation dated 2 June 2026, I am writing to acknowledge your resignation and confirm the terms relating to the end your employment with FIS Australasia Pty Ltd ("FIS") on 30 June 2026 ("Termination Date").

The terms related to your resignation shall be as set out in this letter. In the terms below Group Company means FIS and any company which directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with FIS from time to time, and the Group has the corresponding meaning.

1. Termination Date

1.1. Your employment with FIS shall terminate on the Termination Date. All your employee benefits from FIS will be terminated with effect from the Termination Date. With effect from the Termination Date, you will not represent yourself as being employed by or connected in any way with FIS or any Group Company.

2. Payments

2.1. You will receive your basic salary, less the usual payroll deductions, and other contractual benefits up to and including the Termination Date.

2.2. If you have any accrued but untaken annual leave, as per your Workday record as of your Termination date, this will be paid to you subject to the usual payroll deductions. This is payable as part of the final compensation payment. If you have taken annual leave in excess of your annual leave accrual this will be deducted accordingly from your final pay.

2.3. If your super is with Mercer, we will advise them that you have left. Please contact them to discuss whether you wish to continue with them or to transfer to an alternative superannuation. Please do not close your account with Mercer immediately, as there may still be contributions that need to be made to you. Please also remember that the admin fee and Death/TPD insurance cover (if applicable) will cease to be paid by FIS effective the Termination Date.

- 2.4. If you are currently contributing to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan (ESPP), your contributions to the scheme will continue up to and including your final salary. In accordance with the scheme rules, upon your separation of service, you will no longer be eligible for future matching. Please also be aware that per the terms of the scheme, the 6-month hold restriction on the shares you purchased with your contributions will no longer apply. However, there is no automated mechanism at Fidelity Investments to remove this hold. If you wish to sell any of your shares prior to 6-month from their purchase date, you may contact a Fidelity Investments representative to confirm that the date of separation is reflected on your account and then direct the representative to remove the hold restriction. At that point, you will be able to sell your shares. You may contact a representative of Fidelity Investments using the phone numbers found at www.fidelity.com/globalcall. If the date of separation is not reflected on your stock plan account or if you have any additional ESPP questions, please raise a case on the People Office Support Centre.
- 2.5. You agree to submit all outstanding expenses for authorisation, as per the standard FIS expense claim process, prior to your Termination Date. Any expense reimbursement payments will be subject to approval before payment is made.

3. Return of property

You are required by your last working day to have returned to FIS all property currently in your possession belonging or relating to FIS or any Group Company. Such property includes but is not limited to, records and business documents (both hard-copy and electronic; both originals and copies), and other materials such as computer disks and tapes, computer programs and software, office keys, access card, correspondence, files, customer lists, technical information, customer information, pricing information, business strategies and plans, sales records and all equipment such as laptops, printers and cell phones belonging or relating to FIS or any Group Company. You further agree that you will not retain any copies of any such property belonging or relating to FIS or any Group Company. FIS reserves the right to deduct from your salary or any other payment due to you, the cost of any company equipment not returned by the Termination Date.

4. Confidentiality and other Post Termination Restrictions

- 4.1. You are reminded that you must not use or disclose any confidential or personal information belonging to FIS or its clients, suppliers or colleagues other than in the course of properly performing your duties for FIS. This includes not forwarding or copying any documents or emails which contain any FIS or FIS client, supplier or colleague confidential or personal information other than in the course of properly performing your duties for FIS. You must also not send any FIS or FIS client, supplier or colleague confidential or personal information to non-FIS email accounts or technologies other than in the course of properly performing your duties for FIS and only then strictly in accordance with the requirements set out in the Acceptable Use Policy, the Information Classification Policy and the Information Handling Policy.

4.2. The only documents that you may send to your personal email account are documents that solely relate to you personally, such as your employment contract, this letter and payslips. This does not allow you to forward FIS templates, FIS training materials, contact lists or work that you have created, collaborated on, received or accessed in the course of performing your duties for FIS. If you are in any doubt as to whether a document is a personal document, you should err on the side of caution and not send or copy it without prior written approval from your manager or People Partner. Any attempted exfiltration of FIS confidential information or breach of any of these obligations will be treated very seriously and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination without notice.

4.3. I would like to remind you that you remain covered by any post-employment obligations you have previously agreed to concerning confidentiality, intellectual property and inventions, non-competition, non-solicitation and no poaching of employees.

Should you have any questions regarding the above or completion of your employment, please email to The.People.Office@fisglobal.com.

May I take this opportunity to thank you for your contribution during your time with FIS and to wish you every success for the future.

Yours sincerely,

Shirlynn Ng
